Withington's Speed Sale Dec. 7.

At S. B. Withington's sale stable, West Lebanon, N. H., Dec. 7, there will be a notable "Speed Sale" of horses from the stable of Senator G. E. Whitney of Burlington, including such horses as Baltic, a 5-yr.-old bay gelding pacer; Senator, a 4-yr.-old bay gelding trotter; Maud R., a 4-yr.-old brown mare trotter; Roxie Ann, 3-yr.-old bay mare pacer; Mary S., 4-yr.-old bay mare trotter; unbroken 2-yr.- old bay gelding colt, by Sun Pointer; Legs and Arms, bay gelding; chestnut yearling by Sun Pointer. Besides the Whitney string, are consignments of fast ones from S. B. Withington, Fred Brown, Angus McAuley and A. E. Gibson. No such sale of speed has ever been held in this section. Watch for announcement in next week's issue.

Last Chance to Obtain Men's and Young Men's Wearing Apparel.

At lowest prices ever heard of in Orange county. The bankrupt clothing stock of Barre, which was for the past ten days slaughtered in Cushman's block, Cor.
Randolph avenue and Pleasant street, opposite Merchants' Row, Randolph, Vt., closes up Saturday, Dec. 30th, 11 p. m.
Do not miss it under any circumstances.
Be there if you value your dollar. Goods positively sold at lower prices than ever rather than packing up. We want to draw out a small load of goods. Come and help us move quickly. We'll do our share and a little more.

Public auctions on goods while packing up next week. But don't wait until then, for we may be sold for the very article you need most. Remember the place—it's Cushman's block, Randolph, Vt., basement, formerly occupied by Litchfield as meat market.

Randolph Continued.

Eugene Greene is having a severe run of pneumonia.

Mrs. Margaret Gay went Monday to Ryeigate to live with her niece, Mrs. John Morrison.

Miss Louise Ordway returned to Concord, N. H., Tuesday, after a ten days stay in Randolph.

Mrs. Norman Sewall and daughter, Blanche, of Royalton visited Mrs. Cora Robbins yesterday.

H. B. Bell and family are in winter quarters at the Randolph Inn, and J. H. and Miss Mary S. DuBois will join them there the first of the week.

Mrs. N. W. Downing has been very ill with appendicitis but is more comfortable at present. Her uncle, F. W. Farnham, of Copperfield was with her over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bruce have gone to Hindale, N. H. to see Mr. Bruce's brother, George Lyon, a former resident of Randolph, who is in a critical condition with but little hope of recovery.

Mrs. Mary Montgomery is entertaining her uncle, Daniel Darling, of Stratford and her sister, Mrs. Lucy Fisher, of Bainbridge. The latter is to be with Mrs.
Montgomery during part of the winter.

A. M. Vaughan will be one of the speakers at the 13th annual meeting of the Vermont State Horticultural society to be held in Burlington Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 3 and 4. His topic is "Crops Suitable to Grow in Young Orchards."

Fay Wells has had the misfortune to fracture his right leg while at work in the factory of the American Road Machine company at Kennett Square, Pa.
He is now in a hospital at West Chester and doing as well as could be expected.

The Rebekahs had a very pleasant social last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hutchinson, cards providing amusement and refreshments being served. The next social will take the form of a box party at Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening.

E. G. Sanborn, manager of the New York World and his brother, William Sanborn, of the Forest and Stream publication of New York, are at H. H. Howard's, enjoying with other country fare a barrel of butternut that they helped Mr.
Howard gather on Bear hill just 30 years ago after a heavier fall of snow than we have had so far.

Leopoldo Gabarro of Barcelona, Spain, has entered the Randolph graded school to acquire the English language and is boarding at N. C. Greene's. The young man is 18 years of age and a brother of Clemente Gabarro, who also studied here and went about a year ago to Havana, Cuba, where he is now established in business as proprietor of a cafe and billiard room.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raymore found the second anniversary of their marriage expectedly made the occasion of a celebration last Thursday evening by a celebration of their friends. The guests present themselves at the Raymore home in the Lewis Fish house on Weston street and proceeded to have a lively time with games and other social enjoyments. The company was regaled with punch and wafers, and left with the host and hostess a sum of money to purchase a souvenir of the visit. Since then Mr. and Mrs. Raymore have contracted the mumps and the house is quarantined.

A great treat was afforded this civilized community Tuesday afternoon by a dog fight in the arena of the square, where the canine gladiators were sicked on to the fray by a noble concourse of voters who kept their hands in their pockets and their thumbs down while the four-footed brutes chewed each other for an American holiday. We shall be a good many more removes from the tastes of savage ancestors than we are now before a crowd of men will make anything but half-hearted feints at securing an amiceable adjustment of the differences between two growing box-wows.

At the invitation of P. J. Blanchard, the Rochester club held the first of its winter series of socials Friday evening in the old Mansion House hall, whose walls, that have re-echoed a good many merrymakings in the past, resounded once more to the voice of joy and gladness.
There were eighty-five or ninety present, who found amusement in games for awhile, and then formed in a grand promenade that led finally to dancing the Portland Fancy and a few other figures.
Charles Duteille gave a graphophone concert program, and refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts and cheese were uniquely served in napkins.

N. C. Buck and Miss Mary E. Morse will lead the Harvest march at the State grange meeting in Burlington Dec. 10, when West Randolph grange, No. 229, will exemplify the third and fourth degrees. The marching team is composed of William Connolly, Oscar Manchester, Franklin Salisbury, Edmund Nixon, Fred Hayward, William and Charles Goodhart, Carl Bass, Lewis Williams, Mrs. N. C.
Buck, Misses Alice Buck, Edith and Lucinda Howard, Esther George, Hazel Fairbanks, Icy and Carrie Manchester and Agnes Sault. The officers' grange choir and orchestra take part in the degree work, in which about 35 members of West Randolph grange will participate.

The Cook & Harris Moving Picture entertainment drew a small house at Chandler Music hall Monday night though it was worthy of a good patronage. The subjects pictorially presented were cleverly treated, especially "Daniel Boone, or Pioneer Days in America," which portrayed a settler's defence of his log cabin against an Indian raid. The redskins were seen stealthily crawling through the grass to the cabin, in which the wife and daughters loaded the guns as fast as the man could discharge them through the market holes, until the an-tagonism was gone. Then came the final rush through the splintered door, the burning of a captive at the stake, a rescue and flight through the forest, on whose grassy sod the hoofs of the ponies were somewhat incongruously made to sound as though they clattered over asphalt. Illustrated songs and instrumental music varied the program.

The fire alarm sounded at 10:30 Tuesday forenoon for a threatened conflagration at the house of C. C. Gifford on Central street, known as the Judge Perrin place and occupied by B. A. Durkee and family. Soot in the chimney had ignited from a coal fire started early in the morning and left burning under full draft until it was a glowing mass. It was then tempered down and everything was supposed to be right until Mrs. Durkee, going into the dining room about 10 o'clock, saw the paper over a chimney cap burning and a second later the cap fell out, disclosing the flames roaring up the chimney. Mr. Durkee being away at work, she first tried to extinguish the blaze by pouring water into the chimney but smoke and fire pulled out so fast that she called for help and finally the alarm was blown. The firemen impressed a couple of teams into service to draw the apparatus to the scene and soon subdued the flames by the use of chemicals. The fire was confined to the chimney, which was found to be in an unsafe condition, and the greatest damage resulted from some chopping of lath and base boards in one of the chambers. As Mr. Durkee's goods were not insured, it was fortunate that no hose work was called for.
